

UP TO THE STATE

Provision for Tuberculosis Patients Wholly Inadequate.

There Is No Where for Incurable Cases to Go.

In an effort to find out what the state of Kansas is going to do with incurable cases of tuberculosis, Fred Burris, county poor commissioner from Wichita, came to Topeka today to confer with members of the state board of control.

Commissioner Burris reported that there were twelve county charges at Wichita infected with the disease and that the county was keeping these people in tents in various parts of the city.

What we hope for in Sedgewick county is a state institution to take care of these cases," said Mr. Burris, this morning. "The problem of caring for incurable patients would be solved if the state could build a sanitarium or hospital and allow each county to pay the per capita cost of the patients it sends to the institution."

The present law in the state provides for the care of incurable cases only and the institution at Norton, Kan., was built for this purpose.

A report to Governor Arthur Capper, filed recently, the board of control points out that the capacity of the pavilion built out of the first appropriation is 15, and thus far the daily population of the institution has been from 13 to 15. The buildings provided for in the emergency appropriation of the 1915 legislature have been built and will accommodate eight more patients.

Dr. Kenney, superintendent of the Norton state sanitarium, advised the board as follows on the subject of state care for incurable cases:

"Regarding the inquiry as to 'consumptive homes' in my opinion at the present the state should build here, as has been done in Iowa, a pavilion of forty or fifty beds for incurable cases. The ideal way, however, is for the larger counties and certain groups of smaller counties, to build a sanitarium for admission of the incurable types and thus use the state institution solely for the care and treatment of incurable cases. In lieu of arrangements for the care of the incurable and nearer the homes of these advanced cases could be erected for the care of advanced cases."

Commissioner Burris of Wichita pointed out that if the state took care of the advanced cases better equipped would be available and more capable attendants could be hired.

"The tuberculosis menace in the state is a serious one," he stated, "and is one that the state should deal with immediately."

Before the state can build a pavilion for incurable cases the present law must be changed so as to permit such patients to be cared for.

THEY START A RIOT

Two Mexicans Smuggle Bottle of Whisky Into the Jail.

Sympathy cost Tomas Valencia and Feliciano Garcia, both Mexicans, their freedom this morning, when they were lodged in the city jail for smuggling a bottle of whisky through the bull pen door to Pedro Vera.

Vera was being held for drunkenness. A few hours after his arrest, Valencia and Garcia called at the police station. Yes, they were very sorry for their friend Vera, they told the desk sergeant. They just wanted to extend their sympathy through the door. Would "Meester Polecemmen" let them see their countryman, pronto. The interview was allowed.

A few minutes after they left an undue disturbance was heard in the bull pen. An officer investigated and found Vera clamping a bottle of whisky to his breast and trying to evade other inmates.

The two callers were the object of an immediate man hunt. Motorcop Richards nabbed Valencia while Garcia was captured by Chief Parsons and Detective Abbott.

At the Novelty.

Comedy seems to be the watchword of the vaudeville bill at the Novelty the last half of this week. Fleta Brown is called the prima donna from Birdland because she was the prima donna with Henry W. Savage's musical production, "Birdland" and because her voice resembles nothing more closely than that of the sweet notes of a bird. Miss Brown will be assisted at the piano by Herbert Spencer. The Sisters Brunelle and Herbert Stephens will offer a musical comedy sketch in two scenes entitled "Ye Olden Days and Present Days." The Herbert Germania Trio are said to be three clever comedians with a sense of humor. W. F. Reno, "The Tramp," will give a few pantomime eccentricities and Black Brothers do a comedy singing, talking and dancing act. The Pathe News will furnish its usual weekend entertainment.

At the Hipp.

The Five Komical Kops in a laughing skit called "Fun in Front of a Police Station," Ed Roth, a violinist who sings and the Kilties, a comedy wire act will be the vaudeville acts at the Hipp theater for the weekend starting today. The picture program, which also changes today, is expected to be up to the usual standard of this popular place of amusement.

At the Orpheum.

A wonderful story is told in a wonderful manner in "The Butterfly on the Wheel," the World Film feature to be shown at the Orpheum today and tomorrow; the stars of the production, Holbrook Blinn and Vivian Martin, have combined their remarkable talents in such a manner as to produce a screen drama, that has hardly an equal, and added to this the World's studio has revealed new developments of the photographic art which will be delightful as well as a thrilling surprise.

"The Birthday Party," eight clever juveniles in a roasting hotbed of songs, dances and imitations, are billed for the last three days of the week.

How Much Is a Laugh Worth?

Mary Ambrose, the jolly comedienne of Arthur Hammerstein's "High Jinks" has won fame and fortune with here. Look at the picture two minutes and you can't help laughing yourself. It's contagious; that's why it's worth money. At the Grand Tuesday matinee and night, November 23.

JENNINGS HAS F. AND M.

Three Physicians Unite in Diagnosis of His Case.

Three physicians who examined Alfred Jennings, a cattleman of Ellsworth county, who is ill with a disease, which has been diagnosed as the foot and mouth disease, reported confirming the diagnosis made by Dr. Richard L. Sutton, of the chair of ornithology of the University of Kansas, Dr. S. J. Crumrine, secretary of the state board of health announced today. The medical commission consisted of Dr. Crumrine, and Dr. O. D. Walker and Dr. J. Neptune, both of Salina. Dr. Crumrine asserted that no domestic animals in the vicinity of the Jennings home were found to be infected.

"Mr. Jennings is improving and is in no danger," Dr. Crumrine said. "While the disease is rare we agreed that the case seemed typical."

Reports of federal and state health officials indicated no trace of disease among animals in the county.

CITIES PUSH ARMY PLAN

Mayors of Forty Municipalities Follow Mitchell Idea.

New York, Nov. 18.—Mayors of about forty cities from Maine to California have followed the example of Mayor Mitchell of this city, and have appointed committees to operate in national defense preparation.

The cities whose executives have taken such action include: Los Angeles, New Orleans, Boston, St. Joseph, Mo., Oklahoma City and Philadelphia.

Secretaries of branches of the National Security League, in congratulating Mayor Mitchell on the appointment of his committee, suggested a conference of the committee in a centrally located city. George W. Young of Joliet, Ill., suggested that the meeting be held in Detroit.

LEAPS FROM WINDOW

Federal Prisoner Escapes Guard While on Moving Train.

Leavenworth, Kan., Nov. 18.—Fredrick McGuire, a prisoner in the United States penitentiary here who was being taken to Portland, Ore., to stand trial for robbing the United States mail, escaped from his two guards by jumping through the window of a moving passenger train near Sand Point, Idaho, last night according to a telegram received today.

Thomas W. Morgan, warden of the prison, received the following message from the guards:

"We lost prisoner, with shackles on, two miles west of Sand Point, Idaho. Jumped through window of running train No. 8, Northern Pacific."

While McGuire was under sentence of ten years in the local prison, his presence was required at Portland for a trial at this time on a mail robbery charge, because the government had arranged to bring witnesses required in his case to Portland in connection with another trial of a similar kind.

LEAVE FOR CAMBRIDGE

FIND MURDER MYSTERY

Feared That Four Men in Alaska Have Been Slain.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 18.—A murder plot which bids fair to be the most heinous and far-reaching in the criminal annals of Alaska, is developing in connection with a probe of the kidnapping of William Christie, the Treadway Mine company's president.

Four men, about the murder of three of whom there can be but little doubt, are missing. They are Christie, Ole E. Moe, Captain John O. Plunkett, a pioneer of Juneau, and C. F. Smith, Captain of Detectives Charles Tennant made the unqualified statement that as a result of his investigation he is convinced that Christie was murdered and that if C. F. Smith is alive, he is a lucky man.

Moe, Christie and Plunkett were last seen in the company of a man named Krause. Plunkett disappeared and his launch was burned near Juneau. What purported to be a letter written by Plunkett formally reported the loss to the Juneau authorities, the writer stating that he was on his way to Seattle. This letter has been proved a forgery. It was written on the same grade of paper and identical stationery as that of the bogus subpoena on which Christie was taken to his death.

Christie's, Moe's, Plunkett's and Smith's signatures were all found in the possession of the man named Krause, who is now in custody.

Castro Unable to Resign.

Paris, Nov. 18.—Premier Castro of Portugal again proffered the resignation of the cabinet to President Machado yesterday, but the executive refused to accept it, requesting the ministry to remain in power until parliament give some indication as to who would be acceptable as successors to the present members of the cabinet.
